THE ENDOCRINE SYSTEM

Hormones are chemical messengers. They bind to specific target cells with receptors, regulate metabolism and the sleep cycle, and contribute to growth and development. The endocrine glands and organs secrete these hormones all over the body.

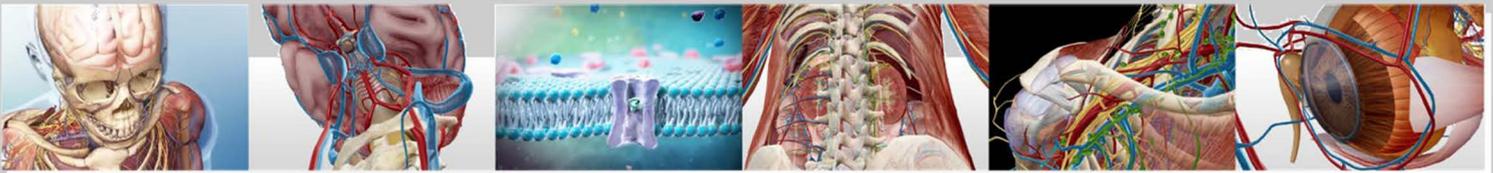

VISIBLE BODY®

The limbic system facilitates memory storage and retrieval, establishes emotional states, and links the conscious, intellectual functions of the cerebral cortex with the unconscious, autonomic functions of the brain stem.

While the sensory cortex, motor cortex and associated areas of the cerebral cortex allow you to perform certain tasks, the limbic system makes you want to do those tasks.

Dr. Alka Agarwal

Santosh Medical College & Hospitals, Ghaziabad

“Medical Education has transformed to more interactive, student centric, learner based teaching with ample ICT based illustrations. Cloudatomy, with its immersive technique of learning through a virtual, interactive 3D interface gives an excellent overview of the anatomical structures and a peep into future of Healthcare learning .

The hands on innovative training scales much superior to the rote learning, makes it more exciting for students and paves a way to be better clinicians.”
